

Become a Barn Docent for Ivy Creek

Ivy Creek opens the barn to the public between 2-4pm, weekend days between April-November. This is one of the best ways we have of telling the history of River View Farm and of introducing visitors to the magic of Ivy Creek. Visitors can examine the interpretative panels, search for the queen bee in the demonstration hive and ask questions of the trained docents on hand. If you love Ivy Creek and want to share it with others, come join our team of docents. We will offer introductory training for docents twice at the end of March. Email our Director of Education, Catherine Boston, at catherine@ivycreekfoundation.org for more information.

Photograph by Victoria Dye